PINTON

Depuis 1867, la Manufacture Pinton perpétue la tradition de la tapisserie d'Aubusson et participe à son renouveau sur la scène de l'Art Contemporain. L'entreprise a également largement contribué à la labellisation du tapis tufté-main en tant qu'indication géographique « Tapis d'Aubusson », au même rang que la tapisserie.

Particulièrement reconnue pour son expertise dans les secteurs de l'art, de la décoration d'intérieur et du luxe, l'entreprise familiale a constitué au fil des années un groupe textile unique. Avec l'acquisition de la dernière entreprise de moquettes Wilton en France « Manufacture Royale d'Aubusson » ainsi que de l'entreprise de tissage Jacquard « Tissage des Flandres », et enfin la construction d'une nouvelle manufacture en Creuse dédiée à la fabrication de tapis tuftés-main, Pinton devient la référence incontournable des savoir-faire textiles français.

Nos sociétés détiennent le label d'État « EPV » qui valorise les savoir-faire et notre capacité d'innovation. Le groupe est également fier d'avoir aujourd'hui un impact positif sur la société grâce à ses engagements en matière de développement durable. Nous portons une attention particulière à la provenance des matières, privilégiant les circuits courts afin de contribuer au développement économique local. Le groupe Pinton se mobilise pour répondre à la forte demande de l'industrie du luxe et aux exigences des décorateurs, artistes et particuliers aux avant-postes du Made in France.

Since 1867, Manufacture Pinton has been perpetuating the tradition of Aubusson tapestry and contributing to its revival on the contemporary art scene. The company has also played a major role in the labeling of hand-tufted carpets as “Tapis d'Aubusson” geographical indication, on a par with tapestry.

Renowned for its expertise in the art, interior design and luxury sectors, the family business has built over the years a unique textile group. With the acquisition of the last French Wilton carpet company “Manufacture Royale d'Aubusson”, the Jacquard weaving company “Tissage des Flandres” and building a state of the art hand-tufting factory in Creuse, the Pinton Group has become a leader of French textile manufacturing.

Our companies have been awarded the “EPV” French government label, which recognises the value of our expertise and our capacity for innovation. We pay particular attention to where our materials come from, favouring short circuits to contribute to local economic development. The Pinton group is also proud to have a positive impact on society through its commitment to sustainable development. The group is mobilising to meet the strong demand from the luxury goods industry and the requirements of designers, artists and private individuals at the forefront of the “Made in France”.

Le tapis d'Aubusson est tufté-main avec soin et précision par nos artisans hautement qualifiés. Grand spécialiste du tapis sur-mesure, Pinton fabrique vos modèles aux formats, matières et couleurs de votre choix. Pour ses collections Haute-Couture et Prêt-à-Porter, le bureau de design de la maison élabore des pièces en interne ou en collaboration avec des designers de renom et des artistes contemporains. La ligne Haute-Couture se distingue par sa diversité de matières, alliant les plus classiques comme la laine et la soie aux fibres innovantes telles que le métal, le lurex, le cuir, le vinyle ou même le fil phosphorescent. La sélection Prêt-à-porter conserve la même qualité de tapis, mais propose des qualités plus accessibles, de la laine au matières brutes. D'autres techniques de tissages viennent répondre aux exigences de nos clients. La Maison Pinton propose ses propres collections, prêtes à être intégrées dans les intérieurs et extérieurs des projets les plus prestigieux. Elles sont renouvelées chaque année par le Pinton Studio-Lab, un studio de Recherche & Développement qui réunit l'ensemble de nos savoir-faire, des tapis aux tissus en passant par la moquette.

Aubusson rugs are hand-tufted with care and precision by our highly skilled craftsmen. A leading specialist in made-to-measure rugs, Pinton manufactures your designs to the dimensions, materials and colors of your choice. For its Haute-Couture and Prêt-à-Porter collections, the company's design studio creates pieces in-house or in collaboration with renowned designers and contemporary artists. The Haute-Couture collection is distinguished by its diversity of materials, combining the more classic wool and silk with innovative fibers such as metal, lurex, leather, vinyl and even phosphorescent thread. The Prêt-à-porter selection retains the same high production standards, but offers more budget conscious yarns. Maison Pinton offers its own collections, ready to be integrated in the interiors and outdoor spaces of the most prestigious projects. Our Studio-Lab - the Pinton R&D studio – creates collections linking all of our savoir-faire – from rugs and carpets to fabrics.

moquette Axminster Design by Alix Waline

Manifesta exhibition, Lyon (France)

La technique de tissage en Axminster est industrielle. Elle porte le nom de la petite ville d'Angleterre où elle a été mise au point. Ce procédé permet de fabriquer des moquettes uniquement en velours coupé, avec une surface lisse et un aspect très doux. Il existe plusieurs propositions de densité de velours au m² qui ajoutera encore en qualité à ce tissage haut de gamme. Il permet aussi de réaliser de nombreux motifs grâce à l'incorporation de fils de couleurs préalablement coupés à la hauteur du velours demandée. Ces fils sont piqués en même temps que le dossier autrement dit, l'envers de la moquette, est tissé sur le métier. Les moquettes Axminster sont composées de laine à 100% ou de laine mélangée avec du polyamide. La pose se fera idéalement tendue sur thibaude feutre ou caoutchouc, collée sur thibaude caoutchouc, ou bien sûr, en pose libre. Pour la pose sur escalier, l'équipe Pinton se tient à votre service pour tout renseignement.

La technique du Wilton, tissage traditionnel offre un large éventail de possibilités: outre les choix de coloris et motifs, Pinton fabrique dans une de ses entreprise, la Manufacture Royale d'Aubusson, et propose des tissages associant différentes hauteurs de velours et bouclés, permettant ainsi la création de motifs subtils. L'usage de la technique traditionnelle du Wilton garantit un tissage d'une qualité remarquable et d'une résistance d'exception. Adapté aux zones à fort passage, le Wilton se distingue également par sa grande flexibilité, idéale pour les poses en courbe. Nos clients peuvent choisir parmi les collections existantes de la Manufacture Royale d'Aubusson mais aussi demander la création d'un motif sur-mesure.

Axminster is an industrial weaving technique. It is named after the small English town where it was developed. This process enables us to manufacture carpets exclusively in cut pile, with a smooth surface and a very soft appearance. There is a choice of velvet densities per m², adding even more quality to this high-end weave. It can also be used to create a wide range of patterns, thanks to the incorporation of colored yarns previously cut to the required velvet height. These threads are stitched at the same time as the backing, i.e. the back of the carpet, is woven on the loom. Axminster carpets are made from 100% wool or wool blended with polyamide. Ideally they should be fitted on underlay and stretched on gripper rods, alternatively they can be glued, or loose laid if they are area rugs. For staircase installation, please contact the Pinton team for technical information.

Wilton, a traditional weaving technique, offers a wide range of possibilities: in addition to the choice of colors and patterns, Pinton manufactures in one of its own factories, the Manufacture Royale d'Aubusson, and offers weaves combining different heights of velvet and bouclé, enabling the creation of subtle patterns. The use of traditional Wilton techniques guarantees a weave of remarkable quality and exceptional strength. Suitable for high-traffic areas, Wilton also stands out for its great flexibility.
